

Senator Newlands Will Discuss National Issues at Verdi Tonight

RENO, Oct. 18.—The town of Verdi is to be signally honored tonight in the first public address given by Senator Francis G. Newlands since his return to Nevada, after the momentous times during which he assisted President Wilson in the passage of the Eight-Hour Law which averted the nation-wide railroad strike threatened a few weeks ago. It is probable that some interesting sidelights on this important legislation will be brought out in the course of the meeting.

"I have not given much thought to the burden of my proposed speech," said Senator Newlands, "because there are so many splendid things to talk about concerning the achievements of the present administration. I will discuss national issues certainly, giving a general summary as we senators have viewed them in Washington, but I want to urge particularly upon the voters the names of your candidate for congress, my colleague, Senator Pittman and E. E. Caine, who aspires to the lower house.

"For the short time since he has invaded Washington, Pittman's record has been an enviable one. It would be a lamentable thing if we should elect President Wilson again and fail to furnish him the partisan support which must come from the members of house and senate of his progressive way of thinking.

Armenia's Appeal to the United States

President Wilson has issued a proclamation designating October 21 and 22 as days upon which contributions for the relief of the stricken Syrian and Armenians may be made. A nation-wide effort is being made to present this appeal to the people of America and to enlist them in the work of mercy. A bare presentation of the facts is enough to move everyone to make some sacrifice to contribute to the funds needed to save a whole people from starvation.

In April, 1915, the tragedy of Armenia and Syria began. Since then, not thousands, but millions of people have suffered such hardship as has not seemed possible in the modern world, at the hand of Turks and other Mohammedans of Asia Minor. Thousands have been deported, exiled, robbed, murdered. Thousands of women and girls have been dishonored, the victims of soldiers and bandits. Thousands of children have been killed and starved. These are not exaggerations, but the testimony of most reliable witnesses.

The awful facts are summarized in these brief statements—Armenian population of Turkey, Persia, and Syria before the war, 2,000,000; massacred or died of wounds, disease, or exhaustion, 850,000. Total Syrian population in Syria, Palestine, Persia, many of them in destitute and starving condition, 3,000,000; Syrians who have perished, over 100,000.

Chance for the News to Make $25

The following has been received at this office:

Reno, Nev., Oct. 16, 1916.

Hon. Geo. Anderson, Editor Carson City News, Carson City, Nev.

My Dear Sir—I note in a recent issue of your excellent paper that you are opposed to the Pittman land grant bill, the bill that will give the state of Nevada the right to select from time to time lands from the public domain until such time as 7,000,000 acres have been segregated for the benefit of our public schools and State University.

As one who favors the passage of that bill, and as one who knows that the bill is being grossly misrepresented for political purposes, and desiring as I feel sure you do, to have the people of Carson City become thoroughly posted on the subject before the general election, I make you this proposition:

I will meet you in public debate, the subject to be "Resolved, that the Pittman land grant bill has no vicious features and would be a blessing to the state." I will take the affirmative and will take 15 minutes to open the debate and 30 minutes to close, and you may have all the time you desire to present your side of the question. I will pay for the Grand theater and all the necessary expenses of the meeting and will pay you $25 if the News publishes a correct account of my talk in favor of the bill.

I would suggest that the meeting be held about October 25th. Yours very truly,

A. B. GRAY.
